

SCHOOL RECEPTION PLAN

-School Reception Plan-

Section 1: Presentation

Good reception, good integration and the guarantee that everybody should have the same possibilities and opportunities, are elements that should help to shape a cohesive, inclusive, plural, respectful, open-world Catalan society that is rooted in one's own cultural reality.

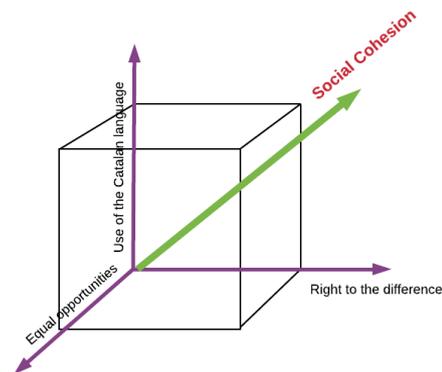

Plan for Language and social cohesion.

(The information is extracted from the Department of Education)

1.1. Introduction.

The Department of Education of the Generalitat de Catalunya throughout the 2003-04 academic year generalized the reception classrooms in all primary and secondary schools. The newcomer students who joined our educational system and who did not know the language, had a space where they could acquire the language of the school, Catalan. This arrival of students in 2005-06 was very fast and with a distribution that included everywhere of Catalonia. There are currently students from more than 150 states.

The LIC Plan is divided into three axes that, closely related, affect especially our educational system: the growing incorporation of students from immigration, the emergence of new causes of social exclusion and the insufficient normalization of the Catalan language. Three elements that make up the space where we need to move forward to build social cohesion:

- Promote the social and scholarly inclusion of all students, avoiding any type of marginalization, guaranteeing equity and creating the conditions that make possible the equality of opportunities and possibilities, through access to quality education.
- Consolidate the Catalan language as a vehicular language in schools and as a cornerstone of a multilingual project, adapting methodologies, strategies and didactic resources to the increasing linguistic and cultural diversity of students.
- Develop awareness of equality in dignity for all people as a precondition for knowledge and respect for cultural differences, promoting the culture of dialogue and coexistence in an intercultural framework.

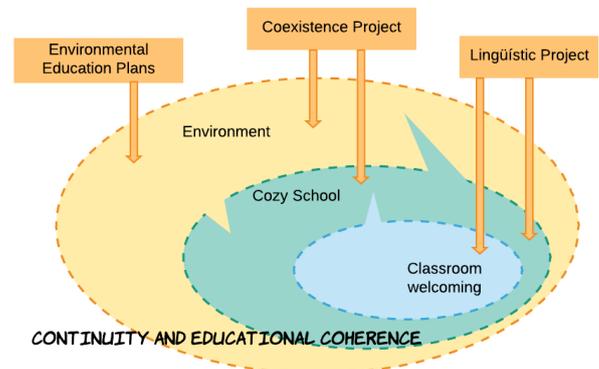

All these principles, included in the LIC Plan, are defined in three lines of action, which want to respond to the challenges exposed:

- Reception Classroom to provide quality care to the needs of the newly arrived students, in the emotional, curricular and learning aspects of the school language of the school.

- Cozy educational centre, that is coherent in the linguistic uses, that raises an intercultural education and that works to achieve the academic success of all the students. Welcoming of the newly arrived pupils should make us rethink the reception that is made to everyone who arrives again at a centre watching, especially, for the emotional aspects.
- Educational plans for the environment, which have been defined as an open initiative and educational cooperation that wants to provide an integrated and community-based response to the educational needs of children and young people, coordinating and stimulating the educational action of another area beyond the school environment, in which the various public administrations and the cultural, sports, leisure activities ... of the environment take part.

The centre reception plan is a very valuable tool in educational centres that have a high mobility of both students and faculty. It is a collection of actions whose main purpose is to inform the work, organization and composition of the community of the educational community, so that people who arrive at the centre can quickly know the specificities and the culture of its new environment.

The reception processes deserve special attention in the centre's coexistence project, because, as the first moment of socialization, they can become a key element in the creation of links, in order to establish a good relational atmosphere and to promote their involvement in the centre of all its members. Within this process, and in the case of the reception of families, the letter of commitment of education is a key document that allows to formalize its co-responsibility and involvement with the educational centre

On the other hand, the arrival of newly arrived families, together with the large mobility of students in the centres, has highlighted the importance of the reception processes, which must be properly managed. These processes are not aimed only at students and newly arrived families, they also go aimed at the rest of the students and families, to the teaching staff and administration and services staff that is incorporated into the centre and to other professionals that may intervene.

It should be emphasized that it is essential to take into account the emotional aspect of the initial reception, especially in the case of newly arrived students and their families, in order to avoid the possible emotional clash that involves the arrival of a social and cultural environment completely new. In addition, the host also has to contemplate measures in the reinstatement after long processes of absence of the students. For this reason, individualized follow-up and accompaniment of the students that are reincorporated to the centre must be done and the educational measures and the necessary commitments between the family, the centre and the student must be established to guarantee a correct adaptation.

1.2. Organization

The educational centre must elaborate a "Welcome Plan" that defines the processes to follow during the arrival of new members of the school community (students, teachers, families, administrative, etc.) and must create an organizational structure that allows to host the reception as a gradual process and sequenced in time, not being restricted to a first contact or initial encounter.

Actions that must be carried out from the EDUCATIONA CENTRE:

This is an example of protocol of families and newcomer students.
